DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES: DBI supports varied activities that provide the infrastructure for contemporary research in biology. These include instrument-related activities, research resources, and training opportunities. Instrument-Related Activities supports the purchase of major items of multi-user instrumentation and the development of new instrumentation; improvement of research facilities at biological field stations and marine laboratories is also provided. Support for Research Resources includes computational biology, databases, plant science initiatives, living stock collections and the curatorial improvement and computerization of research collections. Training includes integrative graduate education and research training, collaborative research at undergraduate institutions, research experiences for undergraduates (sites), undergraduate mentoring in environmental biology and, in selected areas, postdoctoral research fellowships

This position is in the Training Cluster, the primary responsibility is that of the leadership role in the Research Experience for Undergraduate Sites (REU) and the new NSF-wide Education for the Future initiative and to advise others on activities involving undergraduate research training such as the Collaborative Research for Undergraduate Institutions (C-RUI) and special REU supplement programs supported by various programs in the Biological Sciences Directorate. Projects supported by these programs provide opportunity to attract a diversified pool of talented undergraduate students to research in the biological sciences.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED:

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent experience in the Biological Sciences plus six or more years of research, research administration, and/or managerial experience pertinent to the position.

QUALITY RANKING FACTORS: Final ranking is based upon job-related experience, training, education, awards, performance appraisals or letters of recommendation, and the following knowledge, skills, and abilities.

1. Broad knowledge and understanding of scientific principles and theories applicable to the biological sciences.
2. Research, analytical and technical writing skills, which evidence the ability to perform extensive inquiry into a wide variety of significant issues and to make recommendations and decisions, based on findings.
3. Ability to organize, implement and manage a proposal-driven grant program allocating resources to meet a broad spectrum of program goals.
4. Knowledge of management and organization concepts, principles, practices and techniques, with expertise in large project management and/or research administration.
5. Ability to meet with members of the scientific community and peers to advocate program policies and plans, including demonstrated commitment to broaden participation of under-represented and under-served groups in fundamental biological sciences.

BASIS FOR RATING: Final ranking is based on an evaluation of your experience, education and training as they relate to the knowledge, skills and abilities specified in the Quality Ranking Factors. Current performance appraisal, letter(s) of recommendation, and awards may also be used in the evaluation process.

CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT: Appointment to the position is contingent upon successful completion of the appropriate background investigation. Satisfactory completion of a one-year trial period may also be required.

HOW TO APPLY: You may apply for this position with the Optional Application for Federal Employment (OF-612), the older Application for Federal Employment (SF-171), a resume, or other application format of your choice - so long as it contains the necessary information (summarized below). You must also submit a current Performance Appraisal or letter(s) of recommendation from professionals who can comment on your capabilities. In order to ensure full consideration, it is recommended that you submit a supplemental statement which specifically addresses how your background and experience relate to each Quality Ranking Factor listed on this announcement.
